

Disability Service Offices

The State University of New York, with its 64 campuses, is fully committed to making its programs and facilities accessible to individuals with disabilities who are qualified for admission to any of SUNY's two-year, four-year, graduate and professional programs. The professional staff at the disabled student services offices can work with individuals to provide those accommodations necessary for participation in a program. A call to the campus coordinator is recommended to determine how a specific need can be met.

Below is a list of all 64 campuses, followed by the name of the disabled student services office and a link to their website, the phone number for the office, and a link to additional information from The New York State Department of Education (NYSED). NYSED requests and keeps track of the number of students who declared their disabilities, number of staff who work in their school's disability services office, services of interest to prospective students, admissions criteria, reasonable accommodations, and campus orientation (designed specifically for students with disabilities).

If you have any questions regarding disability services, contact Liz Droz, Assistant Vice Chancellor of Student Affairs via email Elizabeth.Droz@suny.edu or phone 518.320.1286.
