

Fall 2014 - Colleges of Technology - ESF
Sector Report

There were two non-redundant items that we referred to the Chancellor:

(1) The identity of the New York State College of Ceramics continues to be marginalized. To demonstrate this I opened a web browser and brought up the map of campuses on the SUNY website. Clicking on the link for the College of Ceramics brought up the Alfred University website. Entering "College of Ceramics" in the search box brought up a list of links - one labelled "New York State College of Ceramics". Clicking on this link brought up a page with an Alfred University banner and absolutely no content.

(2) What, if any, is the role of the Statutory Colleges in Open SUNY, and collaterally, what is the business plan for Open SUNY?
